LITTLE—ROGERS.

The most brilliant social event of the winter, and the first to occur at the beginning of the Lenten season, in Muncy, was the marriage of Miss Mabel Rebecca Rogers, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rogers, of this place, to Mr. Harry Joseph Little, son of Hon. Robert R. Little, of Bloomsburg.

The wedding took place at high noon to-day (Wednesday) in the Baptist Church, before a large audience, invited guests, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, the Rev. D. L. Woods. The church was tastefully trimmed in green and white, which added to the brilliancy of the affair. At the appointed time, to the strains of a beautiful wedding march, played by Miss Caroline Lyon, the wedding party entered in the following order:

Ushers, Ralph Datesman, of West Milton; Rogers Edwards, William Marsh and Slifer Walls, of Lewisburg; bridesmaids, Misses Julia Ebert, Julia Beeber, of Williamsport; Margaret Stine, of Lewisburg, and Luna Bailey, of Wellsboro; maid of honor, Miss Lou Welliver, of Danville, followed by the flower girls Margaret Rogers, cousin of the bride, and Katharine Little, sister of the groom. The party marched up one aisle, while in the other the groom, attended by his best man, Mr. Clarence Rogers, brother of the bride, came up to the altar and met the bride, who was given to the groom by her father. The minister then in a few solemn words, as used in the ceremony of the Baptist Church, united the young and happy couple as man and wife. Miss Lyon rendered strains of music during the whole cermony. It was a pretty wedding.

The bride was gowned in white crepe de chene over white silk (en train) and wore a veil. The maid of honor and bridesmaids looked charming in white organdy, and carried bouquets of flowers. The groom, attendant and ushers, were dressed in the conventional black.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, South Main street, to which the wedding party, relatives and friends, were invited.

The happy couple received a large number of pretty, costly and useful presents.

Mr. and Mrs. Little left this afternoon on a wedding trip, and will spend their honeymoon in the eastern cities. They will make their present home in Mexico, where Mr. Little has mining interests.—Muncy Democrat.

Death of John J. Wagonseller.

John J. Wagonseller died of Bright's disease at his home on East Main street, this town, Friday evening after an illness of several months. He was taken with the malady in the early part of November and though the nature of the attack was in a malignant form, his wife, immediate relatives and friends were hopeful for recovery. The disease in fact did yield to medical treatment and to such an extent that he was permitted to resume his position on the road as traveling salesman. He was again compelled to take his bed about two weeks ago and for four days he lingered between life and death, the end apparently, being imminent at any moment. Much to the gratification of those about him he rallied, but alas, only temporarily and as the midnight hour approached he sank to the sleep that knows no waking and his spirit took its flight to the unknown.

Mr. Wagonseller, since early life, has been a faithful member of the Methodist Episcopal church. He leaves a wife, three sisters and one brother. Two of his sisters, Mrs. Gearhart and Mrs. L. T. Sharpless, reside here.

Funeral services were conducted at his late home Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. M. Frysinger. The remains were taken to his former home in Selinsgrove on Monday for burial.

A Well Known Catawissa Resident Dead.

Adam Fetterolf died at his home in Catawissa early Wednesday morning, after a two-months' illness, aged eighty-three years. Mr. Fetterolf was a man of thrift and energy, and universally respected. The following children survive: Mrs. John Breisch, of Beaver Valley, Mrs. W. M. Heddens, of Danville, Mrs. Ezra Brown, of Nebraska, and Daniel, Michael and Jacob Fetterolf, of Catawissa.

The Bloomsburg Wheelmen will go to Scranton Saturday night to play basket ball.

We most thoroughly appreciate the confidence, goodwill and hearty support of the people, and promise our best efforts to merit the continuous and additional patronage of the public.

Tuesday's Result In Bloomsburg.

John R. Townsend Elected President of Council —Charles K. Taylor School Director.

Tuesday's election was not attended with any very great interest, save for the office of School Director. All three candidates for this position did considerable hustling, and it was a matter of conjecture, among even our expert political prognosticators, as to which two would land the victory. There was very little trading done, and a count of the ballot revealed the fact that two straight votes was the rule. The fight, it was thought existed between Kleim and Taylor, but instead it was between Brown and Kleim, as Taylor polled forty-two more votes than Brown. The size of Taylor's vote is a big surprise to even his friends.

For President of Council J. R. Townsend had a walk over. He carried every ward and has a majority over W. O. Holmes of 258. The vote of the town in full follows:

Hymeneal.

A notable event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Craig in Lairdsville, February 13, 1902, when their daughter, Jennie Craig, was united in marriage to Mr. Wellington Pursell, of Bloomsburg. Miss Margrett Keller, of Bloomsburg, was bridesmaid and Mr. Chas. Craig brother of the bride was groomsman.

At the hour of twelve Miss Martz, of Hughesville, began the wedding march. Following the notes of the organ the bridal party entered the parlor and took their respective positions under a beautiful floral arch where Rev. H. C. Munro, of White Hall, pronounced them husband and wife. After the usual congratulations the large company was invited to the dining room to participate in a splendid dinner.

There were guests present from Lairdsville, Moreland, Hughesville, Washingtonville, Danville, Buckhorn and Bloomsburg.

The presents received by the bride were many and valuable and well chosen for utility. The bride is one of Lairdsville's most estimable young ladies. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

Mrs. George P. Ringler and Harry J. Achenbach carried off the honors of the Wheelmen's euchre Thursday night.

CAMP FIRE LARGELY ATTENDED.

The camp-fire held under the auspices of Ent Post 250 G. A. R. drew a tremendous crowd of people to the Court House Friday evening. There wasn't room to stand up, much less a place to sit down, and many people, unable to gain admittance turned around and went home. Capt. Jackson Post. No. 159 of Berwick, together with the excellent Band of that place, and many visitors were present as was also Goodrich Post No. 172 of Danville and Lieutenant Hoagland Post of Catawissa. The presence of these out of town Posts pleased the local veterans and contributed in making the event the great success that it was.

Mayor Ikeler was on the program for an address of welcome, but was unable to be present, and Jas. C. Brown was persuaded to take his place. After a selection by the Berwick Band, Rev. G. H. Hemingway offered prayer, Harry S. Barton led a patriotic selection, and speeches were made by Rev. W. R. Whitney, Hon. R. R. Little. The audience joined in singing "Marching Through Georgia" after which able addresses on the good of the order were delivered by State Department Commander Levi G. McCauley and Department Adjutant General John Holgate.

At the conclusion of the program the veterans, their wives and numerous friends adjourned to G. A. R. Hall, and partook of bean soup, sandwiches, coffee and other refreshments.

In Their Own Estimation New Yorkers Are Perfect.

And, According to the Same Authority, There Is No Other City in the Wide World Like Their Own.

[Special New York Letter.]

"A BRACE of English mutton chops well done, a cup of—"

The telephone on the restaurant table at the side of the man who was getting ready to dine jingled viciously.

"Hello, hello there!" he screamed into the mouthpiece.

Then his face gradually changed. At the first tinkle of the bell the lines of his mouth were drawn hard and deep and as he put the receiver to his ear the skin on his forehead was creased with wrinkles. Distinctly the words came to him:

"Jones has ordered his U. P. stock closed—100½; Smith places 1,000 shares Steel—41¾."

The deep lines broaden into a suspicion of a smile. The waiter was at the side of the table, napkin in hand, silent and respectful.

"A brace of mutton chops well done, a cup of coffee and a piece of apple pie," said the diner, and as the obedient one was departing on a run the broker yelled after him: "Rush it!"

He is one of the million who eat on the jump every day—or rather who do not eat, but bolt their food between spasms of nervous prostration while in search of the ever nimble dollar in the jungle of commerce and speculation of New York.

New York business men take time to eat? They certainly do not. That is why you may see the telephone stands on the tables in many restaurants near Wall street which are patronized by those who have not time to eat—who have barely time to live. They are products of a city which has within the last few years become the most hustling, driving, nervous metropolis in the world.

Not long ago Chicago was accounted the most bustling city in a business sense on earth. But New York has outstripped it. To keep up the pace the ambitious citizens of Gotham have overdone the matter. It is true the business hours are shorter in New York than in Chicago, and it is because of this that an effort is made to crowd as much work as possible into a short space of time.

Although New York business men are great readers of newspapers they find it difficult to get the time to keep informed on current events. They can read but little at home as the social demands are too strenuous. They cannot read in the office, as it is all they can do to get through the work in the short business hours. The result is they read the papers on the street cars, on the elevated trains and on the ferry boats and the steam cars. Only about half of them get seats. The other half read standing up.

Three hundred thousand men may be seen every business morning hanging on to straps reading newspapers. And many thousand women, jammed together in the aisles and crowded into seats, are reading newspapers, too. Is it any wonder that the afternoon papers prints so many editions?

But the busy side is only one feature of the New Yorker. He has many characteristics that are different from anything that can be found outside of New York city. He talks New York, he walks New York, and he looks New York. And he doesn't care for anything besides New York. If something happes over in Brooklyn—well, if it is especially interesting, he tolerates a brief recital of it. Although Brooklyn is in Greater New York he doesn't recognize it because it is not Manhattan. If there is something stirring in Jersey City he passes it by unless it is an astounding sensation. Nothing short of an earthquake reported from Chicago can make him move a hair.

Not long ago I asked a typical New York woman why New Yorkers were not interested in anything outside of New York. She seemed surprised at my question and asked me in turn, in a tone that closed the conversation:

"Why should they be?"

The New Yorker is thoroughly wrapped up in his "Little Old New York," as he is pleased to call it. He admits there are some rather fine cities on the other side of the Atlantic, but he insists that all the greatness and goodness and beauty of America are in New York.

The talk of the native New Yorker is a cross between the down-east Yankee and the westerner, with a mixture of the south. The New Yorker does not recognize the right of the latter to have space in the alphabet. He chops up his sentences and is not always strictly correct in his speech. Although usually very proper and formal before strangers, he becomes quite familiar with his acquaintances, and addresses his friends affectionately as "Billy," and "Jimmie," and "Tommie." He loves nicknames, not only for people, but for localities. As a result of this, nearly every place in the city has two or more names, such as Harlem, Washington Heights, Little Italy, Columbia Heights, Cathedral Heights, the Manhattan valley, the Ghetto and a dozen others.

And these different localities also have residents with their own peculiarities. You can tell a woman who lives in Washington Heights by her walk. She is so used to climbing the hills that she swings her right arm, which is held stiff as a pump handle, and is used as a sort of piston rod in mounting the high places, even when she is on Broadway or the Sixth avenue shopping district.

Another type is the business woman of New York, and she is rapidly becoming a distinct species. Her face has taken on the care-worn look of the man. She is not the new woman, but she is the masculine business woman. Her chin is getting square and her mouth is set like a man's. Darwin says all creatures are governed by natural selection. Time and circumstances bring about great changes in our physical appearance. According to this theory the business woman of New York in two or three more generations will be broad shouldered and have whiskers.

The New Yorker has the reputation of being chilly and cold. This is partially a libel. He is only on the face of it. His formality is the thing that holds him back from being free and open-hearted with everybody. If you ask a New Yorker a question he will go out of his way to tell you all he knows about it. And if there is the least excuse for talking on street cars or other public places, he will enter into the liveliest kind of a gossiping match with whoever is near him. This applies equally to men and women.

One thing of which the New Yorker boasts: Women, generally speaking, are perfectly safe on the streets at all hours of the night. A New Yorker may ogle a woman on the cars, but she is always safe when out alone.

Another point that is noticeable is the patience of the natives of New York. They live all winter in cold apartments rather than complain. A Chicago man would go down in the basement and have a catch-as-catch-can wrestling match with the janitor, but the New Yorker will bide his time till his lease runs out and then quietly move away.

Next to his love of dress and a promenade on upper Broadway or a spin in an automobile on Fifth avenue, the New Yorker dotes on eating. It seems as if the people were eating all the time. There are more restaurants there than in any other city, in comparison to the population, in the world. Even the cheap places try to imitate the big hotels. They serve table d' hote for 15 cents, and they do it with as much éclat as if the waiter gave you a check for ten dollars at the end of it.

New Yorkers spend their money lavishly. They eat a great deal; they drink a great deal, and they are continually seeking amusements, when not sleeping or working. For the very rich people it is an ideal city, as every luxury on earth man be obtained here if one has the money to pay for it. For the working people it is also good, as very cheap quarters and very cheap ways of living may be found. The very poor people fare better here, probably, than in almost any other great city, as the rich are charitable and thoughtful. But for the middle class, for the average man on an average salary, it is a long, hard pull and a struggle.

ONCE IS ENOUGH TO SEE

Gustave Dore's portrait of Dante is worth seeing—once. But once is enough. Some such look you notice on the faces of those who have suffered, and still suffer, much physical pain; people subject to rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, periodic headache, lumbago, or pain from some old lesion. This pain-habit puts its marks on them, as the custom of handling ropes crooks a sailor's fingers; or as too much riding of a bicycle stamps a worried expression on certain faces. No wonder people said of the Italian poet as he passed along, "There goes

THE MAN WHO NEVER LAUGHS."

The complaints above named all yield to the action of Benson's Porous Plasters, and quickly too. Not only those, but colds and coughs, kidney and liver affections, all congestions and muscular strains, diseases of the chest, asthma and all ailments which are open to external treatment. It is frequently said that Benson's Plaster is Pain's Master. It cures when others are not even able to relieve. For thirty years the leading external remedy. The old-style plasters, as well as salves, liniments, oils, etc., have little or no efficacy as compared with it. Use it. Trust it. Keep it in the house. Ask for Benson's Plaster; take no other. THE SMALLEST MEMBERS.

Two Representatives in the House Who Are the Most Diminutive of Statesmen.

The baby member of the house is Representative Lever, of South Carolina. He is only 27 years old, and looks 20. He was private secretary of the late Representative Stokes, and when the latter died was voted by a grateful constituency into the vacant seat, states the Washington Post.

Every day at 11:45 o'clock Bert Kennedy, assistant doorkeeper, warns all persons not entitled to the floor to vacate, "the rules of the house requiring the same." For three days Kennedy saw a small boy sitting at a desk and coolly disregarding the official summons to retire. He threw his piping, penetrating voice in the direction of the lad, but without effect. On the third day Kennedy told his troubles to Amos Cummings.

"If that boy don't get out of here before 12 o'clock I'll throw him out," said Kennedy.

"What boy?" asked Cummings.

"Sitting over there," replied Kennedy, pointing in Lever's direction.

"I wouldn't throw him out," said Cummings.

"Why not?" inquired Kennedy.

"Because," remarked Cummings, "you might lose your job. He's a member of the house."

Kennedy didn't say a word, and Representative Lever remained undisturbed.

Speaking of little men, the new congressman from New York who defeated Perry Belmont could be hidden away in a gripsack.

Viewed from the gallery, Mr. Lessler seems like a blade of grass. He is certainly less than five feet high, weighs about 60 pounds, and his arms are like pipe stems. He wears boys' shoes and a boy's hat. Under his hat, however, are brains entirely out of proportion to his size. Everybody agrees that he has plenty of ability.

"Alexander Stephens was the smallest man in congress," says Mr. Lessler, "but he was also one of the greatest men. There is hope for me."

Americans are known as a dyspeptic people. The extent of this disease may be inferred from the multitude of so called "medicines" offered as a remedy. They are often in tablet form and have no value except as palliatives of the immediate effects of dyspepsia. The man who used them may feel better but is surely getting worse. They do not touch the real cause of the disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine specially prepared to cure diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It is not made to give temporary relief but to effect permanent cure. If ninety-eight cases out of every hundred it cures perfectly and permanently.

It has cost Dr. Pierce $25,000 to give away in the last year the copies of his People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which have been applied for. This book of 1008 pages is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

WASHINGTON.

From our Regular Correspondent.

Washington, February 14, 1902.

The United States Senate has been a dismal place for the republican members of late for the best talent on the democratic side of the Chamber has been devoted to a painful analysis of the administration's policy in dealing with the Philippines. Senator Teller still has the floor, as he has not yet completed the speech which has now occupied a large portion of three days. The gloom of the proceedings was, however, dispelled on Tuesday when the venerable Senator from Massachusetts rose to refute some of the fallacies propounded by Senator Platt of Connecticut in his criticism of the position of the Senator from Colorado.

With a burst of oratory seldom excelled, Senator Hoar ridiculed the statements of his colleagues from Connecticut and with scathing irony drew the picture of the free schools in the Philippines where the child who read the Declaration of Independence or recited the famous speech of Patrick Henry would be guilty of treason "and must be sent first to the coal bin and later to the penitentiary" under the tyranical laws and edicts of the Taft Commission. He lampooned the election of the provincial governors and defied Senator Platt to produce a platform on which they ran, a resolution placing them in nomination or a political speech in their favor, in a country "where to advance a political opinion was treason." Senator Platt made a reply brilliant from an oratorical standpoint but replete with fallacy and sophistry as his opponent subsequently pointed out.

No important legislation has been enacted in the Senate since the date of my last letter, although the resolution changing the date of the inauguration from the 4th of March to the last Thursday in April was adopted by the necessary two-thirds vote and the Committee on Judiciary has reported a bill providing for the protection of the President and those in the line of succession from attacks by anarchists and others, a novel feature of which is the commission to the Secretary of War of the safety of the Chief Executive and the authorization of that official to assign a guard composed of members of the regular army to carry out the provision. The Secretary is empowered to prescribe a suitable costume or uniform and make such rules governing the guard as may be deemed appropriate.

The House of Representatives has devoted itself to the consideration of the oleomargerine bill to the exclusion of all other business and the debate has been spirited and at times amusing. Only the manifestly prejudiced decisions of the chair prevented the bill from being amended out of existence.

On motion of Mr. Allen of Kentucky, it was amended so as to provide for the inspection and branding of renovated butter and passed by an estimated vote of 118 to 162, no division being called for.

The Ways and Means Committee is still wrought up over the question of reciprocal relations with Cuba and many covert attempts have been made to force a declaration of their position from the democratic members, who consistently refuse to commit themselves until some definite measure shall be presented for their consideration. Representative Newlands told me yesterday that he had reason to believe that the sentiment in favor of his resolution inviting Cuba to become annexed to the United States under a territorial form of Government was growing. "I have been told by several republican members that they were in favor of my resolution," said Mr. Newlands, "and one of them went so far as to say that he believed if it were put to a vote of the people three-fourths of them would vote for it. Some influential Cubans, who have been in Washington in the interest of reciprocity, have also talked to me on the subject and one of them told me he believed that if the question of annexation could be placed before the people of Cuba not more than five per cent of the population would vote in negative. My policy is to grant a 40 per cent reduction of the present tariff rates for a year, at the end of which time I am confident that a large majority of the Cubans will be glad to accept an invitation to become annexed to this country. Some of my colleagues opposed the resolution when I first introduced it because they feared that were Cuba admitted as a territory it would be a long time before statehood would be granted. While I appreciate that there is danger of that I do not apprehend that it will prove serious and I would regard it as a mistake to admit the Cubans to statehood until they have had greater opportunities for familiarizing themselves with our methods and our institutions."

Referring to the Hill bill, which was recently introduced in the House and referred to the committee on Banking and Currency, Mr. Cochran of Missouri said today: "The bill provides for the coining of all the seigniorage in the Treasury into subsidiary coin, gives the Secretary of the Treasury discretionary power to coin silver dollars into subsidiary coin and makes silver dollars exchangeable for gold at the Treasury, just as greenbacks are now exchangeable for gold.

"In my judgment it is a travesty on treason and common sense. If the silver dollar is to become a mere token like the greenback—a sight draft on the Treasury gold reserve—why contine it in existence? If our Treasury is to adopt this policy why not fabricate demands upon the gold reserve of paper at a cost of a small fraction of 1 per cent instead of making a token out of silver at a cost of 50 cents? What a grotesque proposition it is! What a commentary upon the statesmanship that has in hand the reduction of our financial system to order.

"And even a greater absurdity would be the enactment of this law without changing the banking law so as to require the banks to keep their reserves in gold. To allow the banks to keep their reserves in silver would be to subject all to the gold standard except the banks. No such change is likely. Nobody knows better than the great bankers that there is not gold enough in the world to carry the great volume of credits in existence. The mere mention of a law requiring the bankers to keep their reserves in gold is sufficient to set well informed financiers to trembling However, Mr. Hill's bill will never be brought before the House. The republicans dare not pass it because the bankers don't want it passed.

"In his testimony before the coinage committee Mr. Gage freely admitted that a better policy would be to sell the silver dollars as junk, as Germany did, and go out of the silver business entirely and he plainly said that ultimately this would have to be done. Well, if that is the best policy why is it not proposed. Certainly the measure introduced by Mr. Hill is the worst policy that human ingenuity could device."

The Lenten Season.

We are now in the season of Lent and social gayety, for party days, will be abandoned and in its place will be a quiet and religious observance. Lent, observed to commemorate the forty days fast of our Lord in the wilderness, began on February 12th—Ash Wednesday. It ends with Easter Sunday—the day of spring costumes. The period of fasting is forty days, with all churches which observe Lent, except the Greek churches, which have lengthened it to forty-eight days. Sundays are not counted in fast. Pope Gregory the Great in 590, directed that the season should begin on the sixth Sunday before Easter, and that on the intervening week days fasting should be practiced. Afterwards either by him or Gregory II, four days of the preceding week were added, to make the whole fast forty days.

The six Sundays included in the Lenten period are observed as festivals, never as fast, and are called Sundays of Lent. The last, or Passion week, is considered the most solemn portion of the season, and is generally known as "holy week."

The ancient observance of Lent was of most rigorous character. Non observance frequently resulted in severe punishment, and very often excommunication. All flesh and even the so called "white meat" were excluded. Modern customs however have caused a relaxation of the old period. But the principle of permitting but one meal, with a slight collation, is still everywhere retained.

Celebration of marriages and participation in the common amusements of the social world are looked upon with disfavor during the Lenten period.

Caps and Gowns.

There is much to be said in favor of the action of the Harrisburg School Board in ordering graduating classes to wear the academic cap and gown at the commencement exercises in the public schools, says the Philadelphia Press. In the matter of a girl's graduating gown feminine vanity is apt to run to strange limits. The result is often only the awakening of envy and dislike in the breasts of less fortunate classmates who might otherwise have been friends and the procuring of a dress which will be admired for the hour on the stage and then, very probably, cannot suitably ever be worn again. The cap and gown are dignified and are moreover, so becoming that no young woman has a right to complain against them.

Furnish your boy with a room suited to his liking and make his friends welcome to it, if you would keep him off the street.

Prepare Yourself for Spring

Take Dr. Greene's Nervura, the Best Spring Medicine in the World.

In the spring everybody needs and should take a spring medicine. Spring is the time to be cured if you are sick, and the spring finds most of us in poor condition, blood poor, nerves relaxed, weak, and unstrung, and the organs clogged and sluggish in action.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is the best spring medicine in the world, the best possible remedy for you to take, the one sure spring restorative which will build up your blood, invigorate your nerves, and give you your old-time snap, vim, energy, strength, and vigor.

Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless, and now is the time to take it—now is the time you need it most—now is the time to be cured.

Dr. Orlando Kiser, 954 Reese Ave., Lima, Ohio, says:

"Many years ago I was unfortunate enough to lose my health, and, while endeavoring to regain the same, gradually grew worse, until I became a complete wreck in every respect. My nervous system was entirely shattered, the nerves controlling the heart became weak and the heart's action irregular, which was a source of great alarm to me. I was unable to sleep, digestion was interfered with, and, generally speaking, I considered my time short for this earth. I became discouraged and gave up the thought of ever being a well man again. To-day I am a well man in every sense of the word, and all through the use of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, of which I am proud to speak and stand ready to give a helping word to suffering humanity. My health is my greatest blessing, and words fail to express the gratitude I feel for Dr. Greene and his wonderful remedy."

No other remedy in the world will do you so much good as Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It is the true spring medicine, the ideal spring restorative and strength-renewer.

No remedy is so sure to purify the blood and strengthen the nerves, to bring back bloom and color to the wan and faded cheeks, the brilliancy to the hollow and haggard eyes, the lightness and elasticity to the weak and weary steps, the strength, vigor, and vitality to the unstrung, shattered, and worn-out nerves. It is, indeed, the greatest of all spring medicines, for it makes those who use it well and strong.

People have more confidence in Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy than in any other medicine, because it is the prescription of a regular physician and therefore perfectly adapted to cure. Dr. Greene, 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City, can also be consulted free in regard to any case, personally or by writing to him.

EAST BENTON.

Mrs. A. R Stine, of this place, is not as well this Sunday as a few days previous She had an attack of pneumonia.

If not to cold Judge Krickbaum expects to visit the oil well quite frequently, from this on, as he is a stock holder in the concern.

It has the appearance at this writing of an approaching snow storm. Last Saturday and Sunday mornings the mercury dropped to zero at this place.

Operations were resumed at the oil works last Saturday. The long looked for casing was side tracked at Scranton which finally arrived on last Friday.

Considerable sickness is prevalent in our community. Miss Rebecca Wenner is at present under treatment for grip in care of Dr. Davidson, of Cambra.

Much as we desire to see them strike oil, we would like to finish threshing our rye with flail before that happy event. Should they strike oil before we finish, we will throw the poverty club into the corner for some one else to use.

A colored pastor was expounding the gospel to his little flock, and after vividly describing the place of the damned, concluded his service with the following: "Bredren, I have been asked how hot is hell and I would say dat if you took all de wood in 'York State, and all de coal in Pennsylvany, an' piled 'em all in a heap, an' poured on dat heap all de oil in de world, and set dat all on fire, an' den took a man out ob hell and put him into dat burnin' mass, he would freeze to death. Dat's how hot it is"

Barnum's Monkeys

"All well—all happy—lots of fun". That is the regular report from the monkey cage of Barnum's Circus ever since the keepers began dosing the monkeys with Scott's Emulsion. Consumption was carrying off two thirds of them every year and the circus had to buy new ones.

One day a keeper accidentally broke a bottle of Scott's Emulsion near the monkey cage and the monkeys eagerly lapped it up from the floor. This suggested the idea that it might do them good. Since then the monkeys have received regular doses and the keepers report very few deaths from consumption. Of course it's cheaper to buy Scott's Emulsion than new monkeys—and that suits the circus men.

Consumption in monkeys and in man is the same disease. If you have it or are threatened with it can you take the hint?

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

Quit Knocking.

The thing to do is to pull together, help the town, help the county, help yourself. The prosperity of one is the prosperity of all. Pull down your neighbor and you hurt yourself. Put a wire across the path of progress and you'll break your own back. Oppress the poor and you'll suffer from poverty. Be helpful, big-hearted and broad gauged. There is nothing that hurts business so quickly as the prominent presence in the world of a tight-faced, claw-fisted, hawk-eyed, cat-footed, hog-hearted, penny squeezing man, that cross between a glue pot and a vinegar jar, who never spends a dollar 'till he sees a dollar and ninety-eight cents in sight. Just weigh that.

"Can you tell me what kind of weather we may expect next?" wrote a farmer to the editor of his country paper, and the editor replied as follows: "It is my belief that the weather next month will be near like your subscription bill." The farmer wondered for an hour what the editor was driving at when he happened to think of the word "unsettled." He sent a postal note.

President Roosevelt's oldest son, who was very ill at a school at Groton, Mass., is rapidly recovering.

Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of the German Emperor, sailed for this country on Saturday. Great preparations have been made for his entertainment while here.

Admiral Dewey is in Florida with Mrs. Dewey, who is quite ill. An invitation to dine at the German Ambassador's on the 28th in Washington has been declined by the Admiral on this account.

Lieutenant Hobson of Merrimack fame will probably be retired from the Navy on account of diseased eyes, as a bill to that effect has been introduced in Congress. His retirement is recommended by the President.

Hon. W. T. Creasy announces his name as a candidate for Representative, and the present indications are that he will have no competitors. Mr. Creasy's distinguished services to the Democratic party entitle him to this recognition.

Northumberland County will present two names to the conferrees for Congress, from this district Hon. C. H. Dickerman, of Milton, and Harry E. Davis, of Sunbury. Mr. Dickerman has received the indorsement of Northumberland's committeemen.

PREACHING AND CHURCH ATTENDANCE.

The subject of church attendance is one that has received much attention of late. It is quite common now to hear people say that there is no use in going to church, as the sermon will not be worth listening to. They lose sight of the fact that the object of church attendance is not for the purpose of being entertained or amused.

A letter published in The Churchman of February 15th, written by Rev F. S. Harraden of Hanover, Mass. deals with this matter very clearly, and is worthy of careful persual, especially by men. The writer says:

Much has been said and written of late as to the preaching of to-day. The sermon has been pronounced inferior, and the preaching "ineffective." This has been very generally given as a reason or an excuse for the too prevailing and growing failure to attend church. The clergy are severely criticised by the laity, and in this sweeping assertion blame for this failure is laid upon them. By implication, their sincerity and honesty would seem to be questioned. Is it not time for the clergy to speak in their own defence? We of the clergy know full well that our sermons are often not fully up to the standard of what they ought to be, and that our preaching at times is not as effective as we would have it; yet, may we not justly claim that, as a whole, the average sermon is the result of careful thought, and its delivery compares favorably with that of men at the bar or on the platform? To an observing mind this must be evident.

Are there not other more potent causes for non-attendance at church, painfully evident to the clergy, if not to the laity? A prevailing cause is the present spirit of worldliness that is so sapping the vitality of personal religion. This is so evident, that few words are needed to prove it. A result of this is a state of indifference to the claims of personal religion, and readiness to compromise with the world. The standard of the Christian life is thought too high, and men lower the standard that its attainments may be in the line of least resistance, rather than lift the life up to the exalted level of the highest ideal. The worth of an ideal is in its height. The world is just when it points to the inconsistency of practice with profession, on the part of so many Christians.

Again, there is loss of the true idea of worship, and consequently of the main purpose in attending church. It would seem as if, to many, the main purpose is to listen to the sermon. The sermon is by no means to be depreciated, but the worship of God is more important, and the sermon but incidental to the main purpose. To offer unto God adoring praise, to give thanks for the many blessings received at His hands, to enter into spiritual union with God the Father through Christ, should be the purpose of seeking the church on the Lord's Day.

"Let us come before His Presence with thanksgiving: and show ourselves glad in Him with psalms.

"O come, let us worship and fall down: and kneel before the Lord our Maker.

"O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness."

Is not the failure evident?

Sermons may be sometimes poor, and preaching ineffective, yet to ascribe non-attendance at church primarily to this, is not reasonable or just. Let us get at the root of the matter. What is needed among Christians is more vital piety.

When there is less of the spirit of worldliness, and more spirituality in the hearts of men; when the too prevailing spirit of compromise with the world, whereby so many sink into a state of easy, self-contented spiritual apathy, shall be supplanted by real spiritual power; when men seek the church that they may appear before God in loving, adoring praise, with thankful hearts to offer joyous thanksgiving, to bend the knee in humble supplication for forgiveness of sins, with prayers for more of God's grace; when true devout Christian lives shall interpret profession by faith, then will men no longer seek reasons for non-attendance at church, but they "shall dwell in Thy courts, and be satisfied with the pleasures of Thy House, even of Thy holy temple."

ORANGEVILLE NEWS.

Joseph Hall is ill at his home on Main street.

Mr. J. Poust slipped on the ice last Sunday morning and fell cutting his forehead so that it was necessary to take several stitches to close the wound.

Coal thieves are again in evidence. They will have to be very careful in the future however as those who have been losing coal are now prepared to give them a warm reception.

The students of the Public Schools will give an entertainment in Academy Hall on Friday evening, February 21, 1902. They have placed a piano in the hall and will furnish us with some pleasant music.

Last Sunday morning Rev. Dr. Martyn announced to his congregation that he had accepted a call from Canton, Pa., and if Presbytery consents the change will be made in April. The members of his church are very sorry to have him go, as well as the other people in town.

Mrs. Harry Workheiser was buried last Friday morning. Short services were held at the house, after which services were conducted in the Union church by Rev. Houtz. Fred Keller, a brother of the deceased, who is in the army stationed at Portsmouth, N. H., came home to attend the funeral. He left on Sunday to return to his company.

THE STATE AT A GLANCE.

—Plymouth is now getting down to business in trying to arrest the spread of small-pox. The authorities are shooting all the dogs and cats that are running at large in that town.

—The first train to cross the new stone bridge of the Pennsylvania Railroad across the Susquehanna river at Rockville passed over on Monday, in charge of Conductor J. E. Dressler, of Harrisburg. The bridge is not yet open for general traffic.

—The Oley Valley Electric Road, from Reading to Boyertown, nineteen miles, will probably connect with Philadelphia late next spring. The gap between Myerstown and Womelsdorf will also be closed, placing Reading in touch by trolley with the western end of Lebanon county, and thence through to Middletown and Harrisburg.

—A special train from Sunbury to Danville was nearing Wolverton Sunday night, when the engineer noticed the house of Track Foreman John Dunkle in flames. Stopping the train, the crew and passengers aroused the family, who were unconscious of their peril, and then extinguished the fire after a sharp fight.

The present year will probably see more apple trees planted than in any previous year in its history. The price of apples last fall has waked up a good many to the knowledge that there is big money in a well selected, and well cared for orchard.

Interest in the Douglas Estate in Scotland by the heirs in this vicinity is growing. An attorney has been sent from New Jersey to investigate and hasten, if possible, an earlier distribution of the foreign legacy.

My Hair

"I had a very severe sickness that took off all my hair. I purchased a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor and it brought all my hair back again."
W. D. Quinn, Marseilles, Ill.

One thing is certain,—Ayer's Hair Vigor makes the hair grow. This is because it is a hair food. It feeds the hair and the hair grows, that's all there is to it. It stops falling of the hair, too, and always restores color to gray hair.

Aching Joints

In the fingers, toes, arms, and other parts of the body, are joints that are inflamed and swollen by rheumatism—that acid condition of the blood which affects the muscles also.

Sufferers dread to move, especially after sitting or lying long, and their condition is commonly worse in wet weather.

"It has been a long time since we have been without Hood's Sarsaparilla. My father thinks he could not do without it. He has been troubled with rheumatism since he was a boy, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine he can take that will enable him to take his place in the field." MISS ADA DOTY, Sidney, Iowa.

TOOLEY & CO. EXPANDING.

A little more than three years ago Tooley and Foulke, two enterprising young business men, came here from Danville and opened a grocery. They secured a room on Main street, a few doors below Iron. Many at the time predicted that the venture would be an expensive experiment, and that the store would soon be closed for want of patronage. The young men, confident that success would crown their efforts, proceeded to stock the room with a large and well selected line of commodities. They adopted a strictly cash system, which enabled them to deduct the percentage of loss on accounts from the selling price of goods, which resulted in an ultimate saving to customers. The store was opened and day by day the trade increased and the firm grew in favor with the purchasing public, and it was soon recognized as one of the leading grocery stores of the town.

In 1900 the partnership was dissolved, Mr. Foulke, the junior member, retiring, whereupon the firm name was changed to Tooley & Co., J. F. Tooley, a brother, becoming associated in the business.

One of the greatest impediments with which the firm had to contend was the inadequacy of space, but this was recently overcome by the removal of the partition, giving the room a width of 28 feet with a depth of 80 feet. Every bit of space is occupied, and the graceful and pleasing way in which the large, handsome and varied stock of groceries, provisions, confectionery, fruits and nuts is displayed, elicits much favorable comment and has readily effected many sales.

Mr. Tooley has surrounded himself with a force of four obliging and trustworthy clerks, thus assuring prompt service at all times. Miss Martha Laycock has been placed in charge of the confectionery department. She also serves in the capacity of cashier.

On Saturday evening a special invitation was extended to the public to visit the store, and it is estimated that nearly a thousand people were present throughout the evening. The sale of candy alone amounting to about 500 pounds, will give an idea of the business transacted.

This is being observed as opening week, and every person is entitled to a guess. The one coming nearest to the actual number of people who will visit the store this week will be awarded a barrel of Tooley's best flour. The contest opened on Saturday and will end at the close of business the coming Saturday.

Mr. Lawrence Tooley, the proprietor, is a young man of strict probity, cheerful and always jovial. These qualities, combined with the correct and up-to-date methods upon which the business is conducted, leaves little room for speculation as to the cause for the great success and prosperity the firm is enjoying.

They have both telephones and all orders by wire will receive prompt attention.

Danville Wins Again.

The second of the series of duplicate whist games arranged between this city and Danville was played at the home of A. H. Woolley, West Market street, Danville, Monday night. The first game, it will be remembered, was played at Bloomsburg on the evening of January 29 and resulted in a victory for Danville, which won on a total of 20 points.

As on the occasion of the first game Danville Monday evening was represented by Messrs. W. E. Gosh, John Foster, Ralph B. Diehl and Arthur H. Woolley, while the points were covered for Bloomsburg by Messrs. W S. Rishton, S. F. Peacock, A. H. Bloom and Albert Duy.

And again Danville was victorious. The score was:

Rishton and Duy, 5; Woolley and Gosh, 7.

Bloom and Peacock, 4; Foster and Diehl, 11.

Bloom and Peacock, 7; Woolley and Gosh, 3.

Rishton and Duy, 2; Foster and Diehl, 7.

The building materials of the near future, it is predicted, will be glass. The foundations and walls of houses will be the lately invented "stone glass."

Printed and Woven Wash Fabrics.

The early selling of Wash Fabrics has always been a pronounced success. That history will repeat itself we do not think there is the slightest shadow of a doubt. Our reasons for being thus sanguine are:

FIRST.—We have never before invited you to select from such a complete, such a varied equipment of bright, crisp, dainty fabrics as now.

SECOND.—We have never before made such important price concessions, all done to tempt you to buy your entire summer outfit during this sale. Look-ahead folks like to complete their summer sewing during the dark winter days. Are you one of them?

The N. Y. World—Thrice-a-Week Edition.

The Most Widely Read Newspaper in America.

Time has demonstrated that the Thrice a Week World stands alone in its class. Other papers have imitated its form but not its success. This is because it tells all the news all the time and tells it impartially, whether that news be political or otherwise. It is, in fact, almost a daily at the price of a weekly and you cannot afford to be without it.

Republican and Democrat alike can read the Thrice a-Week World with absolute confidence in its truth.

In addition to news, it publishes first-class serial stories and other features suited to the home and fireside.

The Thrice-a-Week World's regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and THE COLUMBIAN together for $1.70.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.00. tf

"Laugh and the world Laughs with you" is a true axiom. To be sure that you laugh with the world you will have to see "A Jolly American Tramp," which Manager U. D. Newell presents at the Opera house on Saturday night. Its scenes are said to be so funny, its comedy so bright and its specialties so clever that you will regret if you don't see it.

The M. E. Church of Almedia will be dedicated next Sunday. Preaching in the morning at 10 A. M. instead of 10.30 by Dr. E. J. Gray of Williamsport. Young people's meeting at 3 P. M. REV. J. D. THOMAS, Pastor.

Clarence Keller, of Philadelphia, who learned the art of printing in this office 25 years ago, attended the funeral of his sister Mrs. Ella Workheiser at Orangeville last week. Mr. Keller is still following his trade.

The ballots for Tuesday's election were printed at Benton. THE COLUMBIAN declined to put in a bid for the work. We are too busy with profitable orders to bother with printing ballots at the price now paid for them.

It is quite likely that Centralia will have electric lights before many moons. The Boro Council is now considering a proposition recently made by the Schuylkill Electric Light Company, of Girardville, and the concensus of opinion seems to favor an acceptance.

The Calliepian Society will present "Hazel Kirke" on the occasion of its re-union in Normal Auditorium Saturday evening. The cast has been well drilled and a first-class production of the splendid drama is assured. Seats can be secured at Bidleman's book store.

B. F. Zarr and William Krickbaum were visitors to the State capital on Friday. Mr. Zarr is the solicitor for the County Commissioners and his business at Harrisburg was to present the reports of the viewers for the bridges to be built by the State at Mainville and in Beaver township.

Jack Allen, Carrie Godfrey, Kitty Bingham, Harry Clifton, Margaret Meredith and C. E Grahame are among the names recognized as capable players who will be seen in Manager U. D. Newell's great comedy melodrama, "A Jolly American Tramp," which will be seen here Saturday evening.

J. G. Wells, the hardware merchant, while in the city on Tuesday purchased an elevator, which will be installed in his new store. Mr. Wells will use the basement of his building and this mechanical contrivance, which is of an improved type, will be a valuable adjunct to the establishment.

Among the political announcements this week will be found the name of R. R. Zarr, Esq., who aspires to the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of the Courts. He has filled the position of Deputy in the office during the incumbency of W. H. Henrie, the present official, for the past five years, and is thoroughly conversant with its duties.

The correspondent from Reading, Pa., to the Philadelphia Sporting Life says: The signing of W. H. Coffman, to cover third base for the local club by Landgraf, was good news to the lovers of the game. Coffman is one of the fastest guardians of the third bag playing in the minor ranks and did great work for the Allentown nine last season.

Comedy and pathos richly blending, touching that well-spring of motion, the heart, and causing the risibilities of its beholders to broaden from a smile into a hearty laugh are some of the promises made by Manager U. D. Newell for his sensational comedy drama, "A Jolly American Tramp," which comes to the Opera House Saturday evening.

J. C. Rutter, Jr. is announced this week as a candidate for Register and Recorder. Mr. Rutter has made a good record in the office, and all the business has been transacted to the satisfaction of the public. He is entitled to a second term without opposition, and this will undoubtedly be accorded him as no other name has been mentioned for the office. This is as it should be.

John Crider of Willow Grove, was in town on Tuesday. He informed us that he intends improving the park, of which he is the owner, this summer. The pond, along the banks of which some of the Bloomsburg followers of Isaac Walton have spent many enjoyable hours, will be stocked with fish. Mr. Crider has been a sufferer for several weeks of some disorder of the left side of his face, and it was to receive treatment that he came to town on Tuesday.

One of Ananias' descendants editing a sheet over in Sullivan county gets this off: "A cow belonging to a farmer up the creek ate three bushels of sweet apples, and at the next churning the churn was discovered to be half full of apple butter."

Rev Dr. Alexander Mackay—Smith, rector of St. John's Church, Washington, D. C. who was recently elected Bishop Coadjutor of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, has formally accepted. The diocese embraces Philadelphia and five adjoining counties.

After a brief illness, Mrs. Clinton Bittenbender, of Lime Ridge, died on Monday, aged forty-two years. Her death calls forth the sympathy of the whole community. A little babe aged only one week, who will never know the love of a mother, is with four other children left behind.

Benton's histronically inclined young people will present the thrilling military drama, "Defending the Flag," in the Town Hall of that place Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. "Leah, the Forsaken," was given last Saturday night to standing room only. The leading role was handled by Miss Laura Wenner McHenry in a way that created a protound impression on the large audience.

John K. Miller has entered the field as a candidate for Prothonotary, and will make his competitors hustle. His official position as County Superintendent has given him an extensive acquaintance through the county, and he has attained to a popularity that will make him a strong candidate. With such men as Zarr and Miller in the field a clean campaign may be expected, and whichever wins the county will have a good officer.

The basket ball game Monday evening between Susquehanna University, of Selinsgrove, and Normal was a disappointment. Normal scored the first basket before the echo of the whistle, calling play, had died out, and encountered very little opposition throughout the game. The first half closed with the score 48 to 0. Had Normal kept the regular team, instead of substituting in the last half, it is doubtful if the visitors would have scored at all. Battersby for Susquehanna was the sprightliest member of the team, but even his work was far from good. The final score was 75 to 18. A neat score board with figures easily distinguished from all parts of the gymnasium, is a recent addition and aids the audience in keeping an account of the game.

A Birthday Surpise.

On Valentine's Day, February 14, our townsman C. S. Furman arrived at the sixtieth milestone of life's journey. In order to properly celebrate the event his wife and children arranged for a family dinner party at six o'clock in the evening, and when Mr. Furman arrived at home he was greatly surprised to find the house full of relatives. The fact that it was his birthday had not occurred to him, and he was at a loss to understand the meaning of the family gathering until he was reminded of it. There were eighteen people present including children, grandchildren, and other near relatives. A bounteous dinner was provided and all enjoyed themselves.

The Wrong Medicine.

If you take medicine when you do not need it you do yourself an injury. If you take medicine for one complaint when the real trouble is something entirely different, the result is more harm than good. If you take headache medicine when the real cause is your eyes, the headache will never be permanently relieved. It is a very common thing to hear people say that they have taken "barrels" of headache medicine without relief. In almost every case the trouble is in their eyes. Actual figures prove that more than six headaches out of ten are caused by eye strain. Glasses are a quick and permanent remedy. They must be correctly fitted though. That's my business.

Two thousand people perished and four thousand houses were destroyed by an earthquake in Russia last week.

It is rumored in theatrical circles that Carrie Nation, the saloon smasher and John L. Sullivan, the pugilist, will be featured in a production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." What a heavenly idea for the last act.

With white potatoes at one dollar a bushel and apples from five to six dollars a barrel, says one of our exchanges, city people may have formed an opinion that farmers are wearing diamonds and riding in automobiles, but many farmers are buying potatoes for their own use and apples are almost as scarce as June roses.

An exchange says: Don't ask the editor to rebuke every evil in the town and community, but when convinced that such duties need attending to, write an article yourself and sign your name to it for publication. The man who is too big a coward to thus express his opinion is the very one who will stand on the corner and talk loudly about the cowardice of the editor.

When a man and woman take out a marriage license it is necessary for each one to give an occupation, generally an embarassing question for a young woman. A Bradford county girl recently gave her occupation as "helping mother." There should be more girls apprenticed to that trade, and, although we do not know the young lady in question, we have no doubt that she will make a good wife.

Hemlock lumber will be much higher the coming summer than ever before and it will be hard to get, according to information received from absolutely reliable sources. Wholesalers are receiving orders now and have all they can do to fill them. If this demand keeps up, which is quite certain, owing to the prosperous times, it is quite likely that hemlock will go to sixteen dollars a thousand at the mill.

When a boy breaks through the reserve which nature has given him and begins to use bad language he enters on a course that leads easily to destruction. Association with other boys at night, without supervision, helps on this evil way. Let's all get together in this community and stop the profanity. To do this we need the co-operation, not only of the three great p's "pulpit, press and police," but of that still greater p, "parents," and also of the school teachers. There are some hopeless, hardened sinners, addicted to the use of bad language, but save the boys.—Curwensville Review.

It is said that the old-time tradition that women must wait for a matrimonial proposal is to be relegated to the attic. The movement has been started in the west and is being encouraged in the east. Two weeks ago the writer attended services in a church at Montgomery, Pa. The preacher favored the proposition and in a prelude to his sermon touched upon it by saying that many women support themselves and a husband and if a woman is able to support a husband she would certainly have something to say, in fact everything to say in the selection of one.

When William F. Halstead was general manager of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad, with headquarters at Scranton, he was noted for his brevity and directness in dealing with his men. He said but little, but he meant every word. One time a complaint was entered that one of his engineers had stolen a pair of geese of a farmer. He was called in to "dance on the carpet." "Did you get some geese out at Putnam's?" asked the manager. "Yes, sir," answered the engineer, "I got two as nice wild geese as you ever saw." "Wild, eh," responded the manager, "Well, you take thirty days off and tame 'em."

A TOWN'S RAPID GROWTH.

Population Jumped from 600 to 40,000 as a Result of Visit from President Hayes and Party.

"Talk about the rapid growth of cities, why, Neosho Falls, Kan., holds the record. I think the town is still on the map, but I won't be sure. At any rate, I remember when the population jumped in one day from 600 to 40,000, and the next day jumped back again. This was merely occasioned by a fair, and not a country fair at that, but simply a little crossroads celebration. It was just after President Hayes had been elected. He was touring the west at the time, and the citizens of Neosho Falls secured a promise from him to attend their fair. The town was fortunately on the line of a railroad, with a service of two trains a day, but when the company learned of the president's proposed visit a gang of workmen at once started to lay sidings. At least a dozen were constructed around the little frame station, together with a Y for the convenience of the engines. When the great day arrived the president was at hand, with several members of his cabinet and a military escort from Fort Riley. The railroad company estimated that 40,000 people visited Neosho Falls that day, and I dare say some of them are talking about it yet. The next day the visitors were all gone, for there were no hotel accommodations, and nothing to feed them with. The gang of workmen came back and tore up the sidings and the Y, and the town again resumed its normal placidity, just as though nothing had happened."

SOME COSTLY SMOKED MEATS.

Fine Hams and Bacon from Ireland That Rival the Product of Virginia.

"The costliest of all the smoked meats," said a dealer in such things, according to the Chicago Inter Ocean, "are the fine hams and bacon that come from Limerick, Ireland. The prices of these meats may vary slightly from time to time, the hams selling usually, however, at from 33 to 35 cents a pound, and the bacon at 32 or 33 cents a pound.

"These costly smoked meats are made from fine hogs that are fed and tended with scrupulous care. The curing process is a secret. The result is shown in meats of such quality and flavor as to commend them most highly.

"Of course, there are fine hams produced here, also, notably those of Virginia, the finest of which bring 24 cents a pound. Included in the price of the Limerick hams and bacon is a duty of five cents a pound. If you were to add that to the price of the Virginia hams you would raise the cost of them to 29 cents, and adding further the cost of transportation from Europe would bring the Virginia hams pretty close to those of Limerick in price; so that in their original cost they are about the same.

"As to which is the better ham, that would be largely a matter of taste. The Irish ham is rich and juicy, the Virginia is of a more delicate flavor."

ENGLAND'S "WEDDING-RING."

Said to Signify a King Wedded to His People—Legend of the Royal Circlet.

"The wedding ring of England" is of plain gold, set with a large table ruby, on which the cross of St. George is engraved, says Lippincott's. Legend says that this ring belonged to Edward the Confessor, and that he bestowed it on an old beggar who asked an alms of him, he having nothing else at hand at the moment. Soon afterwards two English pilgrims lost their way in the Holy Land and were succored by a "fayre olde man," who on parting said to them: "I am Johan the Evangelyst; and saye ye vnto Edward yovr kyng that I grete him well by the token that he gaff to me, thys ringe, with hys one handes." Certain it is that James II., when detained by the fishermen of Sheerness on his first attempt to flee the country in 1688, contrived to hide a ring, called "the coronation ring," in his clothing. This was a favorite ring of Mary Queen of Scots, and was sent by her at her death to James I., finally coming into the possession of George IV. through the channels by which he obtained all the remaining papers of the house of Stuart.

The archbishop puts the ring on the fourth finger of his majesty's right hand, saying: "Receive this ring, the ensign of kingly dignity and of defense of the Catholic faith."

The President's Salary.

By the act of congress of September 24, 1793, and again on February 18, 1798, the salary of the president of the United States was fixed at $25,000 and that of the vice president at $5,000. That of the president continued the same until March 3, 1873, when it was raised to $50,000, at which time U. S. Grant was president. The salary of the vice president was raised to $8,000 in 1853, to $10,000 March 3, 1873, and January 20, 1874, it was again reduced to $8,000. The constitution of the United States says: "The president shall, at stated times, receive for services a compensation which shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall be elected."

The Trans-Siberian railway gives the cheapest rates in the world. It is possible to buy an emigrant ticket, covering 6,000 miles, nearly three weeks' journey, for about three dollars.

THE BOSTON CHINA STORE.

Whary's Store Renamed.

Spick and span from the hands of the painter and decorator, L. E. Whary's store comes like a new applicant for public favor. All in white, it presents a very attractive and bright appearance, and on its counters and shelves are many beautiful goods in the china line. The stock embraces Haviland and Elite china, and other French makes, German china and English porcelain, in full sets, and in various patterns of single pieces. The goods are nearly all open stock, so that purchasers can procure as much or as little as they want, and these sets can be matched at any time. The store has been named the Boston China Store, and will be known by that name hereafter.

Mr. Whary will continue to handle stoves and ranges, of which he has a fine line on hand. The public is invited to call.

The installation was planned by Prof. J. H. Dennis and is easily the most complete and effective of any to be found in this section.
